The Daily Gazetteer.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 1, 1745.

Naples, July 13.

THE Court is extremely occupied at present, as it very well may, the Ministers having no less than Three arduous Affairs upon their Hands; the First is, the recruiting, or rather, restoring the Army; all the Troops that have seen Service being already in the Field. The next Thing which employs their Attention, is the filling the Magazines, and procuring Transports to carry Ammunition and Provisions to the Army. The Third and last is, the Commission for trying Malecontents; which has set constantly every Morning for several Weeks past, and have condemn'd Don Gregorio Grimaldi to perpetual Imprisonment in the Island of Perseleja. Signior Giordano is condemned to the Gallies for Life; and Don Nicholas Mirziz to be shut up in the Castle of Syracuse for Ten Years.

Vienna, July 24. Count de Wurmbrand, First Ambassador from her Majesty, as Queen of Bohemia, to the Dyet at Franckfort, will set out for that Place in a few Days, his Baggage being already gone. The Day before Yesterday a Courier arrived from Bohemia with the News that the Prussians had passed the Elbe; but that our Troops had attack'd them so vigorously, that their Passage had cost them 2000 Men; for which good News, the Queen gave the Courier 50 Ducats. We have not altogether as agreeable Advices from Silesia, where the Insurgents have not been able to defend themselves against the Prussian Regular Troops. Her Majesty's Journey to Franckfort remains a Thing settled, and the Preparations for it are carried on more and more vigorously every Day. The Hessians are actually return'd out of Hungary, and make a very fine Appearance; and we hear with great Pleasure, that his Serene Highness the Duke of Saxe Gotha has resolved to augment his Troops to 12,000 Men, with a View not only to increase that Body at present in the Service of the States General, but to put himself into a Condition to comply with the Demand lately made by his Britannick Majesty, of another Corps of 4000 Men.

Munich, July 27. The Count de Sinsheim, Minister from our most Serene Elector to the Court of Vienna, has succeeded perfectly in his Negotiation, and accomplish'd, in every Respect, what was expected from him. As the Dyet of Election will be speedily open'd, his Excellency has receiv'd Orders not to return hither, but to proceed directly thro' Bohemia to Franckfort. As his Negotiations have always been kept secret, it is impossible for us to give a distinct Account of them; but we are told in general, that besides 6000 Men of his Electoral Highness's Troops, that are to enter into the Pay of Great Britain, another Corps, consisting of the like Number, will enter into the Service of his Polish Majesty; they are each to be composed of 4000 Foot, and 2000 Horse and Dragoons. According to our last Advices from Venice, that Republick is about to furnish a Corps of 18,000 Auxiliaries for the Service of the King of Sardinia and the Queen of Hungary; so that the Spaniards and French will gain little or nothing by the State of Genoa's declaring in their Favour, tho' that Measure costs those Powers 300,000 Crowns a Month.

Ratisbon, July 29. There are some private Letters in this City from Munich, of a very odd Nature; since they not only speak of Jealousies and Intrigues at Court, but of Seditions and Insurrections, but all in general Terms; which is the Reason that we chuse to say nothing more of them, till we are better informed on the Subject. Our last Advices from Bohemia inform us, that since the King of Prussia had passed the Elbe, his Designs were as impenetrable as before; and that it was impossible to conceive whether he had fixed his Thoughts on bombarding and burning Konigsgratz, on forcing the Combined Army to a Battle, or on making himself Master of Prague.

Paris, July 30. All the Royal Family are in perfect Health at Versailles; and the Marquis de Stainville, Minister Plenipotentiary from the Grand Duke of Tuscany, is disposing all Things for his speedy Departure; and we are told, that his Royal Highness will not send any other Minister here in his Stead. The Military Chest taken at Ghent, and the Contributions levied in the Low Countries, are, it seems, more than sufficient to furnish Subsistence for his Majesty's Armies; so that M. Orri, Comptroller of the Finances, has lately received an Order not to remit this Month's Pay, as usual, into Flanders. There were found in the Town of Oudenarde 36 Pieces of Brass Cannon, 100,000 Rations of Forage, and a great Quantity of Corn and Meal.

Brussels, August 3. The Marquis de Fogliani, and his Lady, passed thro' this City incognito, in their Way to Paris. His Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland has removed his Head Quarters to Vilvorden Yesterday Morning, and about Noon there arrived in the Camp a considerable Corps of Austrian Hussars, which are to be followed by a greater Number. The Munsterian Troops are actually in Motion, and it is thought, will arrive in the Low Countries by the 20th of this Month. The Detachment lately sent from the French Army to reinforce the Prince of Conti, consists, as it is said, of no more than 7000 Men, instead of 30,000, that were to have been sent thither.

Extract of a Private Letter from the Hague, dated August the 5th, 1745.

'It is not without Reason that you complain of my 'not writing, but, at the same time, give me Leave to 'say, that, for a Person in my Situation here, it is no easy 'Matter to know what to write. Our Politicks in this 'Country are as variable as the Weather, and their Changes 'altogether as unaccountable. Some Months ago both 'the Government, and the People, in these Provinces, 'appeared as sanguine and hearty in the Common Cause 'as could be wished; but the great and unexpected Success of the Enemy, and their own Apprehensions '(whether well or ill founded I can't determine) seem 'to have given a quite different Turn to the Notions of 'both since then, and to have thrown them into such 'a State of Irresolution, that it is very hard to say what 'we may expect. Yet of this you may be certain, that 'the Bulk of the People (always the best Judges of their 'own Interest) think as we do, and would willingly 'risque all Things to assure their own Safety, by acting 'vigorously; and thereby reducing not the exorbitant 'only, but now terrible, Power of France. They openly 'compare the present critical Conjuncture to that of '1672; and freely confess, that if some speedy Remedy 'be not applied, the Independency of the Republick will 'be lost; and the Complaisance she has too often, and 'too long, shewn for her powerful Neighbours, must 'speedily change into a constant, absolute, and necessary 'Submission.

'The reducing the Dutch to such a Situation, is, without Question, the First and Principal Point of the 'French Policy; from which (at least for any Thing appears) there is nothing can divert them. The Abbe 'de la Ville makes no Secret of this, but, on the contrary, insists upon it in all Conversations. The King, 'says he, has absolutely resolved to finish the Campaign 'by reducing Dendermond, Aeth, Nieuport, and Ostend; 'and from this he will not be by any Means diverted, 'no, not if the Grand Duke should penetrate into Lorrain or Alsace, and should let loose there his Hussars, 'Croats, and Pandours, upon the People. It is easy to 'see what he drives at by publishing such Things at 'such a Time; and now they see what an Impression 'these Discourses make, some who formerly opposed 'the declaring War against France, heartily wish that 'Step had been taken, that, at least, they might have 'been free from this Inconveniency, and not have had 'such a dangerous Instrument amongst them. In the 'midst of this Ferment, various Consultations are held, 'many Things offered, but few Resolutions taken; 'which keeps every one in Suspence, and causes this 'Place to look like the Privy Council of Europe, where 'the Fate of Nations is to be determined; which made 'an able, honest, and penetrating Minister say, the other 'Day, to one of the States, The Balance of Power hangs 'here To-day, but take care it is not stolen away to 'Paris To-morrow.

'We cannot, however, in the midst of these Mischiefs, help thinking that there is some Danger to 'France in the Methods pursued by her Grand Monarch 'at present. For, by absolutely declining to succour 'the Prince of Conti, as for the Sake of their Conquests 'he has done, Things are going strongly against him in 'the Empire; where the Elector Palatine, who has 'been sacrificed to these Notions, is endeavouring, by 'the Assistance of the Elector of Cologne, to make his 'Peace; and, perhaps, a greater Prince may, e'er long, 'think the same Way. The Marquis de St. Giles could 'not help mentioning this not long ago to the Abbe de 'la Ville, and the Pains his Catholick Majesty took to 'revive their Interest in Germany; intimating, it was 'a Point that merited the Most Christian King's Consideration. But the Abbe answered roundly. "The "King is fixed in his Measure. He will make himself "entirely Master of Flanders and Brabant. When this "shall be once done, I shall have Orders to make a sepa- "rate Peace here; and then we shall be able to teach "new Lessons of Policy to the German Princes." 'Such 'are sincerely the State of Publick Affairs here; where 'we one Day fear, and another hope, according as our 'Superiours discover either Courge or Apprehension. 'Undoubtedly this is the worst Condition for a Government to be in; for while we deliberate on the surest 'Means of obtaining Safety, all Safety will be taken from 'us.'

SCOTLAND.

Arrived,

At Newcastle, the Nancy, Hunter, from Hamburgh; also several laden, and 74 light Coasters.

LONDON.

We learn by private Letters from Amsterdam, that a Swedish Frigate of 30 Guns, and 180 Men, commanded by Capt. Rave, is arrived in the Road of Pease, and had sent on Shore to demand that James Dignaar should be delivered up to him, as a Subject of the Crown of Sweden, accused of having committed various Acts of Pyracy.

They write from Cassel, that Prince William of Hesse was to set out from thence the 1st of August, N. S. for Hanover, in his Way to Schonen; where he is to confer with the King of Sweden, his Brother, whose Health will not permit him to continue his Journey into Germany, as he at first intended.

The last Letters from Paris say, that his Most Christian Majesty had sent Orders for putting the Palace of Fontainbleau in Order by the 20th of August, N. S. from whence it is conjectured he will return thither by that Time; so that the Campaign in Flanders is like to conclude sooner than was expected.

The Phœnix Privateer, Cooke, is arrived at Bristol from a Cruize, having had her Hands impress by the Augusta Man of War

School, dreſs'd in Archers Habits, according to the Will of William Lyon, Eſq; Founder of it in the Year 1557.

The Lords Commiſſioners of the Admiralty have appointed Capt. Thomas Smith to be Captain of the Devonſhire Man of War, which ſpeedily will be launch'd at Chatham.

The Proprietors of the Original Raiſin-Brandy Warehouſe, are removed from next Door to the Golden Key, to the Sign of the Golden Anchor on the oppoſite Side of the Way, near St. Paul's Church-Yard, in Watling Street. They are determined to keep up their Brandy to its uſual Goodneſs, which has withſtood for theſe Ten Years paſt, the various Contrivances in Oppoſition to it, both under the ſame, and other Names; and they will accommodate thoſe Perſons that it don't ſuit to take Five Gallons, with Two Gallons and a Half, except they ſhould require it to be ſent to any of the Out-Parts of the Town.

The only ſhort and infallible Cure

For that reigning Diſeaſe the SCURVY, and all Scorbutick Humours tho' arrived to the higheſt and moſt inveterate Degree, or of ever ſo many Years ſtanding, and that without any ſenſible Evacuation or the leaſt Purging, which by an unaccountable Miſtake is generally adviſed, although always found rather to increaſe and confirm the Scurvy than cure it.

By the ſo much famed and moſt pleaſant Chymical DROPS:

WHICH, without the leaſt Trouble, Confinement, or any Diſorder whatever, do at once ſtrike at the true Cauſe of the Scurvy, and intirely deſtroy it, and all Scorbutick Humours and Effects, Root and Branch, ſo as never to return again, as many Thouſands of both Sexes have experienced, and as all who take them in 3 Days time will be convinced; for they almoſt inſtantly alter the morbid State of the Juices, purify the Blood, ſweeten all the Fluids, cleanſe them from Impurities, and directly clear the whole Habit from all Spots, Blotches, black and blue Marks, Itchings, foul Eruptions, or Breakings out, Weakneſs of the Limbs, languid Heavineſs of the whole Body, wandring Pains, Weakneſs of the Back, and all the vaſt Variety of Symptoms by which the Scurvy imitates and often lies concealed under the Appearance of the Rheumatiſm, and many other Diſtempers.

And for ſtrengthening the Stomach, immediately creating a good Appetite, cauſing a regular and eaſy Digeſtion of Food, and curing all windy Effects and Diſorders of the firſt Paſſages (whence proceed Head-achs, Vapours and other Indiſpoſitions) no Bitters nor any other Medicine upon Earth can compare with them, inſomuch that beſides infallibly curing the Scurvy in all its Shapes and Appearances, they alſo aſſuredly and immediately cure the Green-ſickneſs in Virgins, Worms of all Kinds in young or old, and almoſt all other Chronick Diſeaſes, (which are chiefly occaſioned by Indigeſtion and flatulent Crudities in the Stomach and Bowels) and certainly prevent Fevers, Agues, and other acute Illneſſes.

They are wonderfully Cordial and Reſtorative, ſtrengthen and enliven the whole Machine, and ſoon as taken, make the Patient pleaſantly Lightſom, Briſk and Vigorous to admiration, and are good for all Sorts of Perſons, to preſerve as well as to procure a ſound and healthy State of Body.

But the great Reputation theſe ſomuch fam'd and pleaſant Chymical Drops have ſo univerſally gain'd among Perſons of Eminence, for their ſuddenly and infallibly curing the Scurvy and all Scorbutick Humours, and other Chronick Diſeaſes, in ſuch an eaſy and agreeable Manner, have occaſioned many to imitate them, ſome under the ſame, and others under other Names: Be careful therefore not to be deceiv'd; but be ſure to have the Right, which by the Author's ſpecial Appointment, are to be had only at the Gentlewoman's, at the Two Blue Poſts, in Haydon-Yard, in the Minories, at 3 s. 6 d. a Bottle, with Directions.

The uncommon Succeſs, above Forty Years laſt paſt, of this ſo much famed and only true Original

ROYAL CHYMICAL WASH-BALL,

FOR beautifying the Face, Neck and Hands; has induced many Envious Perſons, not only in every Part of London, but in many Places in the Country, to ſell a Counterfeit White Ball (which may prove prejudicial, as well as ineffectual) in Imitation of the true ones.

To prevent as much as poſſible any Miſtakes in Prejudice to our Cuſtomers, we give this ſpecial Notice, That the True Sort are now ſold only at Mrs. Wharton's Toyſhop, the Blue-coat Boy, near the Royal-Exchange in Cornhill; and by Mrs. Stephens (was Dunn) a Milliner, now removed to the Blue Ball near the Middle-Temple Gate in Fleetſtreet. Price 1 s. each Ball, or 12 to the Dozen; but no Allowance for leſs than 12 Balls at a Time, nor will they ever be ſold any where elſe, except Notice be firſt given in theſe Advertiſements of it.

Their true and real Virtues have been ſufficiently atteſted in all the Years that they have been Sold by Publication, and the more ſo, as they are ſtill more than ever uſed and admired by both Sexes of the beſt Quality, and many Thouſands of Gentry and others, for making the Skin ſo delicately ſoft and ſmooth, as not to be paralleled by any Waſh or Waſh-ball, &c. of any Kind or Form; for theſe Balls are indeed real Beautifiers of the Skin, by taking off all Deformities, as Tetters, Ringworms, Morphew, Sunburn, Scurf, Pimples, Pits, or Redneſs of the Small-Pox, and keeping it of a laſting and extream Whiteneſs; they ſoon alter red or rough Hands; are admirable in ſhaving the Head, not only giving a moſt exquiſite Sharpneſs to the Razor, but ſo comfort the Brain and Nerves, as to prevent catching Cold. They are of a grateful and pleaſant Scent, without the leaſt Grain of Mercury, and may be eaten for their Safety.
